SUNDAY, 6 DECEMBER 2009

6 December – St. Nicholas Day – is always a big day for children in Switzerland. And over the past 100 years, especially here in Lucerne. Every year on this day the red-robed figure of "Samichlaus" visits the 17th century church of St. Leodegar in Lucerne, accompanied by a colourful possession of dwarves, servers, and "schmutzlis" (his black-clad assistants). After a short seasonal speech, "Samichlaus" visits the homes of local children of all confessions, to hear them recite a verse or two. And to praise them for their past good behaviour – or even admonish them for any misconduct.
